

Struggling with strategy?
Frustrated with fundraising?
Grappling with governance?

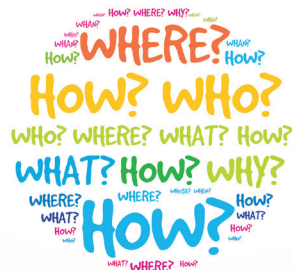

Surrey Community Action Sounding Board

Everyone needs a sounding board at one time or another; charity and community group leaders are no exception.

It can be tough at the top particularly if, as is so often the case in the voluntary sector, running the charity is not your only role within the organisation.

The Surrey Community Action Sounding Board can help...

If you are a CEO, leader, manager, chair or trustee of a Surrey charity or community group with a challenge or a concern, then why not book a FREE one-to-one session with Jason Gaskell, CEO of Surrey Community Action?

Surrey Community Action has a network of over 1,000 contacts in the voluntary, faith and community sector. We provide advice and support to voluntary and community groups, parish councils and social enterprises and run frontline projects too.

Jason has helped colleagues in the sector to find office accommodation, source emergency funding, identify corporate sponsorship opportunities and lobbied on their behalf.

In return, Jason can get a deeper insight into the challenges faced by Surrey voluntary and community groups which he can in turn pass on to commissioners, funders and others. Your meeting can be booked for a mutually convenient time and place and all meetings will be informal and confidential.
